

Career Pathway Map

Identifying a target career is a major step in the right direction to finding long-term fulfilling work. However, finding a great career can be a series of great jobs and opportunities. The Career Pathway Map helps envision where you are now in relation to your target jobs and long-term career goals.

You can do this by first identifying where you are currently through work, education level, credentials, and supports. From there, determine what jobs may exist between where you are now and your "career goal." These can be "gateway jobs" that open the door to higher paying destination jobs, or "milestone jobs" that mark significant career progress and development. When done, you will have decided to map your first steps towards a successful career path.
